Instructions for Former Customer Proof of Claim

These instructions and definitions generally explain the law. You should consider obtaining the advice of an attorney, especially if you are unfamiliar with the bankruptcy process and privacy regulations.

A person who files a fraudulent claim could be fined up to $500,000, imprisoned for up to 5 years, or both.
18 U.S.C. §§ 152, 157 and 3571.

How to fill out this proof of claim form

- Fill in all of the information about ~~the~~your claim.
- Attach any supporting documents to this form. If you are mailing your claim form, do not attach original documents because attachments may be destroyed after scanning.
Instead, attach copies of any documents that support the amount you are claiming.

Examples of such documents are copies or screen shots of bills from Griddy, statements from banks or credit cards showing payments made by the Former Customer to Griddy, or other documents that help prove any amount you are claiming.

- If you have too many documents to attach to your proof of claim or do not have the supporting documents, attach a statement describing your documents or an explanation why you do not have any documents to attach.
- Information that is entitled to privacy: To protect your privacy, any attached documents must show only the last 4 digits of any social security number, individual's tax identification number, or financial account number, and only the year of any person's date of birth. You may later be required to give more information if the trustee or someone else in interest objects to the claim.

Confirmation that the claim has been filed

However, if a creditor decides to sell its claim, any transfer of that claim is subject to Bankruptcy Rule 3001(e), any provisions of the Bankruptcy Code (11 U.S.C. § 101 et seq.) that apply, and any orders of the bankruptcy court that apply.
